To Whom It May Concern:

I would like to nominate my husband, G.A.N.McFaddin known to most as Gus, for the NSCA Hall of Fame. And what better person to know her husband's shooting history than a "shooting widow". No, only kidding.

We tell our friends and acquaintances that Gus and I met while shooting, 43 years ago, have been enjoying the sport as a couple since that time, and by the grace of God, we haven't shot each other.

Gus' shooting began long before that time. I am told that he began hunting with his father W.P.H.McFaddin as a 5 year old. Early on he was taught the importance of safety in gun handling. As a young man, he worked on the family ranch guiding and managing duck hunting.

He continued his hunting, skeet and trap shooting throughout his years in college and law school. Hunting and competitive shooting continued throughout his adult life and when sporting clays came into existence Gus felt this was a great shooting sport that assimilated bird flight, so he jumped right in barrel first.

You can see by the amount of targets he shoots yearly that he is a serious and dedicated shooter. Gus is known by many for his warm smile and his willingness to share his shooting experiences with anyone needing help.

Respectfully yours,

Jean W. McFaddin
